

AFGE leaders and activists are working tirelessly on your behalf to advocate for increased telework, improved personal protective equipment, and more as federal and D.C. workers face serving the American people in the midst of a pandemic. We've been instrumental in solidifying important changes such as getting agencies to expand telework for employees and adjusting medical prescription guidelines to allow workers the flexibility to stock up on medications if needed.

Thousands of AFGE activists and community members are visiting our website for information on how the coronavirus is impacting government workers and their agencies. Our coronavirus resource website, www.afge.org/Coronavirus, includes:

- AFGE leaders and activists featured in national news publications addressing issues facing workers
- Telework and travel guidance from various agencies
- Flexibility regarding medical prescription guidelines
- Updated bargaining guidance around coronavirus
- Guidance from OPM, DOL, OWCP, & CDC
- Specific information about coronavirus for employees in different sectors from the AFL-CIO
- A link to update your information so you can receive the latest communications about coronavirus from AFGE

As an AFGE leader please take these two important steps so that we can stay connected as information regarding the virus develops.

1. Take this survey to help us get an understanding of what is happening at your agency to ensure your health and safety.
2. Update your information so you never miss an important update on coronavirus from AFGE

Please regularly check afge.org/Coronavirus to view important coronavirus updates.

Note: Information on this site is not intended to substitute for actual medical care or professional medical advice. If you believe you are, or may be ill, contact your primary care health provider immediately. Information on this website may change as the situation/recommendations/resources evolve. Please check back frequently.

Sincerely,

For the latest AFGE news and information, follow us on:

